

REPRESENTATIVE DRIEHAUS WELCOMES NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION FUNDING FOR UNIVERSITY OF CINCINNATI

WASHINGTON, DC—Representative Steve Driehaus today welcomed an announcement by the National Science Foundation of a $99,998 award for the University of Cincinnati, College of Engineering.

“This is more great news for the University of Cincinnati and our community. U.C. carries out cutting-edge research, and this smart investment will help them continue their important work,” said Rep. Driehaus.

The National Science Foundation provides support for research and education in non-medical fields of science. According to the National Science Foundation, the agency receives more than 40,000 requests for funding every year and grants funding to approximately 11,000 of those requests. The project is titled “A Systematic Methodology for Data Validation and Verification for Prognostics Applications,” and will be under the direction of Dr. Jay Lee.
